Case Study for Marchant Consultants

What was needed:

- Ongoing week by week accommodation in the Canary Wharf area for a project with one of the leading international banks located there.

Marchant Consultants offers consultancy and interim leadership services to financial services companies .

Andy Marchant had contracted to work on a project with one of the world's largest banks and needed to be on-site at their offices every week for an anticipated year long project. Not being based in or near London, daily commuting was not feasible so a cost-effective, appropriate accommodation solution was needed. Whilst there are hotels in the area, staying there 4 nights a week would not only have meant packing up each Friday to go home for the weekend, but also there is no option to cook so restaurant bills would soon have mounted. Over the course of a year hotel rooms can also seem to get smaller and smaller!

After working closely with one of our Corporate Team, looking at all options and analysing the costs in detail, Andy viewed several thesqua.re serviced apartments and opted for a newly developed 1 bed apartment within 10 minutes walk of the client offices.

"It has been great to be going back to a bigger flat than a hotel room and that feels a bit more like home, and it's more flexible than a let as you are not making a long term commitment"
